A Loving Place, Where we CARE, Learn and Grow Together`

Happy Friday everyone! Isn't it lovely to see the sun finally shining! We have had a super busy fortnight in school, since we arrived back from the Easter break. Several trips have already taken place, with EYFS and KS1 at the Zoo last Friday, Year 5 at the National Space Centre yesterday and the graduating Year 6 scholars with me on the minibus, enroute to Warwick University as I write. I was very proud to hear that several members of the public complemented our student's behaviour at the Space Centre yesterday. One member of staff even commented that we were the best-behaved school in the building! We are so proud of our children, and we know that they are wonderful, but it is so lovely to have their manners, behaviour and respect for others recognised by others too.

My Eco-Warriors have been very busy this week, as we celebrated Earth Day in school. They have led two assemblies, organised a whole day of learning and run a Trash mob around school and in the Grange Farm Community. We are now well on the way to achieving our ECO SCHOOLS Green Flag, and our Plastic Free Schools awards. I have added some highlights below, but the ECO-WARRIOR team is also assembling an update for the newsletter to send out to you too!

Have a lovely, sunny weekend!
